SCOPE

The College seeks input from students on their learning experiences across all course delivery modes. This information is used to inform faculty professional development programming, promotion and tenure actions, and other efforts related to continual improvement of student learning and satisfaction. The frequency of student course evaluation and appraisal is guided by the faculty contract. This precludes the College from conducting appraisals for every class.

POLICY

Each term, students may be asked to provide an evaluation of classes, their faculty and the methods in which they receive instruction.
